Did you know that the first Elephant Car Wash opened in 1951. Elephant was also the first car wash to abandon the plastic bristle brushes and move to the high-tech hybrid-blend cloths and high-pressure water cleaning, far superior to hand washing and with minimal risk for scratches. Elephant Car Washes reclaim the water they use for conservation and reduce the risk of pollutants making their way into streams and rivers. A leader in this industry, computers now operate the washes, the pH factor of the dirt build-up on cars is analyzed and the soap solution is adjusted accordingly. These types of commitments ensure that you receive the best service available from a company that cares.

EnviroEdge is an effective new way to wash vehicles using only earth-friendly ingredients. Zep offers a full range of competitively priced products that are environmentally friendly without loss of performance. Each product has been tested and proven effective under real vehicle wash conditions. The EnviroEdge system represents Zep's commitment to reducing the impact on our environment throughout the production and use of earth-friendly car washproducts. It includes:

- * Low impact manufacturing that uses reduced energy and less water.
- * Less packaging by formulating more concentrated products that reduce package size and materials used, saving natural resources.
- * More efficient distribution due to less packaging and smaller containers, resulting in lower fuel consumption and environmental impact
- * Products with earth-friendly ingredients that support water reclamation systems and are applied by EnviroEdge-trained employees.
- * Guilt-free disposal without the VOCs and other substances that can harm our environment.
